* Rambling timber country home approx 100 years old
* 5 double bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, multiple vehicle parking
* Period features, large sunny timber deck, granite kitchen

A hundred years ago the Spinaze brothers arrived from Italy and carved a farm from the bush that became a local showpiece. Kids from the town came to marvel at the cows and pigs, snack on the produce, or take a bumpy ride in old man Spinaze's one-horse sleigh.

This property is the core of that old farm; the dwellings, dams, infrastructure, and the forest where the timber for buildings and fences were found.

The rambling old timber farm house (5 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, office) has been completely renovated to provide modern convenience while retaining original style.

Soaring ceilings, bifold doors, timber floors, stained/coloured glass, beautiful timber fret work, timber dado rails are just some of the original features.

Open plan living including a gourmet granite kitchen with gas cooking, opens to a spacious sunny deck with sensational rural vistas.

The second main dwelling incorporates a funky artist studio, additional bathroom & kitchen, an office, another bedroom, a utility room, the laundry and a huge shed.

The third dwelling is bohemian studio accommodation perfect for teenagers or guests.

The forest has desirable Tallowood, Bloodwood, and hoop pine trees which are ready to be thinned, providing a commercial return without affecting the landscape. A big solar array keeps electricity costs to a minimum. Two lovely dams complete the picture. History & future scope.
